Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 18 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Largely dry and clear with the odd shower, possibly heavy.

This Evening and Tonight:
Scattered showers becoming restricted to southern areas during the night. This will leave the north largely dry with clear skies. Feeling chilly in the clearer skies. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Wednesday:
Through the morning, showers develop across the region, although less frequent than recently, but still possibly heavy and thundery. Turning largely dry later, and remaining so overnight. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Persistent rain on Thursday arriving from the west, with strong winds. Staying wet and windy on Friday, with a risk of thunder. Further scattered showers and sunny spells on Saturday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.